COL SOLARE LUNCH FOR FOUR PLUS TWO MAGNUMS

A wine of global distinction that quickly earned a place in the critics' hearts, Col Solare is a unique partnership between Washington State's Chateau Ste. Michelle and Tuscany's Marchesi Antinori. The winemaking team of Marcus Notaro and Doug Gore, Ste. Michelle Wine Estates and Renzo Cotarella, Marchesi Antinori of Tuscany work closely together in the vineyards through final blending to create this elegant and powerful wine. Col Solare is crafted in a refined state-of-the-art winery on Red Mountain that is dramatic up close and from a distance; the three hundred foot stone wall of the cellar emulates the basalt cliffs lining the valley. A thirty-acre estate vineyard stretches out below like the rays of the sun with panoramic views that reveal the landscape of the Columbia Valley and Horse Heaven Hills below. The winning bidder and three guests will be invited to tour the winery and estate vineyard followed by lunch paired with several vintages of Col Solare. Begin your exploration of Col Solare tonight when you take home a pair of etched and hand-painted magnums: 2004 Col Solare, rated 92 by Wine Advocate, and 2005 Col Solare, rated 94 in Wine Advocate. Subject to availability, advance booking required.

SOLERA AND LUNCH FROM CHERRY POINT VINEYARDS

Solera is produced by taking our world famous Cowichan Blackberry Dessert Wine and gently applying the special Solera aging process, giving the wine significant time to age in barrels, making it elegant and smooth, combining delicate wood notes and rich mellow fruit. Solera is made entirely from blackberries that grow naturally in abundance throughout the Cowichan Valley. These berries are picked every August by the Cowichan people. Delicious on its own and divine with desserts, dark chocolate, figs and crumbly pieces of blue-veined Stilton cheese. Includes gift certificates for lunch at our bistro, valued at $200. Visit us and enjoy our unique vineyard views, fresh local ingredients, innovative West Coast inspired cuisine, great Island wine and unmatched service.
